NOTE: If there is no SIM card present, notify your Nextel Authorized Representative immediately.

The SIM card maintains all of the stored names, numbers, and the PIN you enter into your i2000 phone. Your SIM card must be in place to make or receive calls.

This section contains everything you need to know about your SIM card. However, to quickly begin using your phone you can refer to "SIM Card Personal Identification Number (PIN)" on page 14 and "Entering the PIN" on page 14. Then, proceed to "Attaching the Battery" on page 12 and read the remaining information at a later time.

SIM Card Personal Identification Number (PIN)

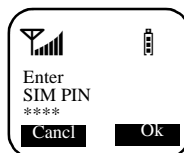

To prevent unauthorized use of your phone, your SIM is protected by a PIN. Each time the i2000 phone is turned on, a PIN must be entered. You can later change or disable your PIN if desired.

NOTE: Disabling your PIN enables anyone to use your phone. If you disable your PIN, you still must keep the SIM card in the phone to make calls.

Creating, Editing and Using Stored Lists

A stored list is made up of names, phone numbers, private IDs and speed dial numbers. Stored lists are convenient because you do not need to remember names and numbers. Instead, you simply scroll through your stored list, press a button and the number is dialed for you.

NOTE: If you want to use your computer to create stored lists for your i2000 phone, use Nextel's iDEN Organizer. It's available for programming names, phone numbers, and Private IDs into your phone. To order, call Nextel NextdaySM Accessories at 1-800-914-3240 or contact your Nextel Authorized Representative.

NOTE: You may want to read "Pause Digit Entry" on page 28 and "Plus Dialing" on page 35 before you create a stored list. Using Pause Digit Entry and Plus Dialing will enable you to create stored lists that will save time when placing calls.

About This Section

This section includes instructions for the following tasks:

Storing Names and Numbers	Page 26
Pause Digit Entry	Page 28
Editing Stored List Entries	Page 29

Storing Names and Numbers

This programming function allows you to store up to 100 names, phone numbers and private ID numbers. Your i2000 phone will automatically assign the next available speed dial number, which you can change. Once you have stored an individual, you can call them by scrolling through the list and finding their name, using the speed dial number or using Nextel Direct Connect (see "Customizing the i2000 Phone" on page 80). Whenever the person calls you, your phone will display their name if you entered their 10-digit phone number. The display holds 12 phone-number characters. If the phone number exceeds 12 characters, you can press  under "More" to see the remaining characters. To return to the start of the number, press  under "Numbr".

You can store up to 100 names, phone numbers and private IDs using the following steps:

1	Press  until you see the “Prgm” option.
2	Press  under “Prgm”. Then press  then  .
3	The message: 20=Phone / Prvt List displays. Press  under “Ok”. The next screen displays the remaining number of phone numbers and Private IDs that you can store. The phone will then display the Enter Name screen.
4	Enter the name of the individual you want to store. (Notice, each key has a number and several letters. To select different letters on a key, quickly press the key until the desired letter displays. For example, to enter the letter Y you must press the  key 3 times quickly. Also, you can press and hold  to change the case of the letter you just entered (lower to upper and upper to lower case). The default style is upper case.) NOTE: Press  to delete a letter. Press  to insert a space. After you have entered the name, press  under “Store”.

8	Repeat steps 3 through 7 to add additional names/numbers.
9	Press  under “Exit”.

Pause Digit Entry

When storing a number, you can program your phone so that it will not only dial a number but also pause and enter another series of numbers such as a personal PIN or password. This feature is particularly useful for automated services such as voice mail and banking systems.

Here's how it works! Let's say you have a company voice mail account that you frequently check while on travel. And, to access that account you must do the following:

- Dial your work number;
- Press # while the voice mail greeting is being played; and
- Enter your personal PIN to access your messages.

You can program your i2000 phone to enter all of the above information for you. All you have to do is separate each entry with a pause. If you were to program your phone to automatically input the above information, the stored data would look like this 17035551234P#P1234. In this example, the first eleven digits represent the number that must be dialed to access your voice mail. The P represents a 3 second pause. The # interrupts your greeting. The second P represents another 3 second pause. The last four digits represent your personal PIN.

You can use this feature not only to enter personal PINs and passwords but also to have the phone automatically select menu options (i.e., press 1 to hear messages).

To create a three-second pause follow the steps below:

Press and hold  for two seconds. The pause symbol (P) will appear.

NOTE: You can enter up to 20 numbers/characters in a single entry, stored or dialed.

NOTE: If you use a system that will not let you enter an option until the automated message has played in its entirety, you can program your phone to pause for more than 3 seconds. For example, performing the above step twice will program two pauses and cause your phone to wait 6 seconds before entering the next set of numbers.

After you access Voice Mail, an automated system tells you each menu option and which button to press to make a menu selection.

Setting Up Your Voice Mailbox from Within the U.S.

You must set up your voice mailbox before you can retrieve messages. The following steps will tell you how to setup your mailbox. However, before proceeding you may want to read “Recording Your Active Greeting” on page 45, which provides information you may want to include in your greeting:

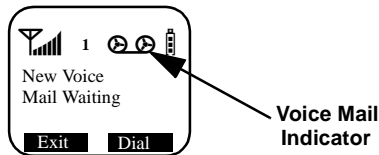

- 1 Using your Nextel phone, dial your 10-digit Nextel Personal Telephone Number (PTN).

If you are calling from a phone other than your Nextel i2000 phone, dial your 10-digit Nextel Personal Telephone Number (PTN). When you hear the greeting, press * to access your voice mail account.

Time and Date Charts

Time and Date Charts can be referenced for specific tasks throughout the Voice Mail System.

Voice Mail 24-hour Military Time Clock

The voice mail service uses military time, also referred to as the 24-hour clock:

NOTE: To compute the 24-hour clock for p.m. time add 1200 to the a.m. time. For example, 2:00 p.m. is 1400 hours in military time (0200 + 1200 = 1400).

Below is a list of hours translated into military time:

Hour	12:00 am	4:00 am	8:00 am	12:00 pm	4:00 pm	10:00 pm
Military Time	0000	0400	0800	1200	1600	2200

Dates

All dates must have 4 digits in the MM/DD format (2 digits for the month and 2 digits for the day). January is 01, February is 02, etc. The first day of the month is 01, the second day of the month is 02, etc.

If a call comes in after 5:00 pm, you will not be paged until 8:00 am the next morning. (Before using this option, you may want to refer to “Time and Date Charts” on page 53 since the phone will only accept times in a 24-hour clock format.)

Setting the Way Your Phone Searches for Networks

You may want to configure the phone to search for a specific network or enable it to select the best network. The i2000 phone enables you to select the option that's right for you. And, you have six options to choose from:

- Last Active—This is the phone's default setting. It enables the phone to switch between iDEN and GSM systems that do not overlap (for example, if you send/receive calls on an iDEN network while in New York. Then you travel to Paris. Your phone will first search for an iDEN network. If it cannot locate one, it will automatically search for a GSM network).

NOTE: This is the recommended setting, which reduces network registration time.

- Roam—This option is useful when you are in an overlapping system-coverage area and have no preference for either the iDEN or the GSM network. Your i2000 phone will switch between iDEN and GSM until it finds an acceptable network.
- iDEN Preferred—This option is useful if your home system is iDEN and you travel to a country or region where GSM coverage is also available. Your i2000 phone always searches first for iDEN networks. If an iDEN network is not found, your phone will then search for a GSM network.
- iDEN Only—This option is useful when you are in an area that is covered by iDEN and GSM networks, but you want to use iDEN. Your i2000 phone attempts to register only on iDEN networks.
- GSM Preferred—This option is useful if your home system is GSM and you travel to a country or region where iDEN is also available. Your phone will always search for GSM networks first. If a GSM network is not found, your phone will then search for an iDEN network.

- GSM Only—This option is useful when you are in an area that is covered by iDEN and GSM, but you want to use GSM. Your i2000 phone attempts to register only on GSM networks.

NOTE: Nextel and other networks in North and Latin America are generally supported by iDEN. Networks in other areas of the world are generally GSM networks. Be aware that some features that are supported by iDEN networks are not supported when you connect to a GSM network.

For optimal battery life, use a Motorola iDEN Approved Lithium Ion battery charger with your Motorola iDEN Lithium Ion battery. Other chargers may not fully charge your Lithium Ion battery or may yield a reduced number of cycles.

Battery Operating Instructions

- Extreme temperatures will degrade battery performance. Do not store your battery where temperatures exceed 60°C (140°F) or fall below -20°C (4°F).
- This Lithium Ion battery has a self discharge rate and without use, will lose about 1% of its charge per day.
- The battery capacity will be degraded if stored for long periods while fully charged. If long term storage is required, store at half capacity.
- The Motorola iDEN Approved Lithium Ion chargers will provide optimum performance. Other chargers may not fully charge your iDEN Lithium Ion battery or may yield reduced number of charge cycles.
- If the battery appears inoperative, the internal protection circuitry may have been activated. Remove the battery from the phone and put it into the charger for several minutes to reset the circuitry.
- When batteries are not in use, always store them in the plastic safety tray.

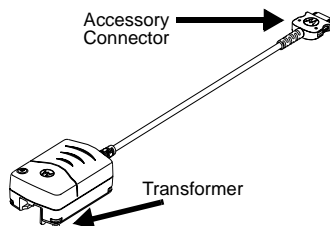

Travel Charger

Using the NPN6197 Travel Charger, you can charge a battery from an AC outlet. On one end of the Travel Charger, an accessory connector attaches to the bottom of the phone unit. At the other (AC outlet) end of the device, there is a compact housing that contains the plug-in power supply. A lightweight cable connects the two ends (accessory connector and supply).

A power light (green LED) on the accessory power supply indicates that the Travel Charger is plugged in.

Additional adaptor plugs to accommodate various European power outlets can be purchased separately.

Safety and General Information

IMPORTANT INFORMATION ON SAFE AND EFFICIENT OPERATION.

READ THIS INFORMATION BEFORE USING YOUR INTEGRATED MULTI-SERVICE PORTABLE RADIO.

For the Safe and Efficient Operation of Your Radio, Observe These Guidelines:

Your radio product contains a transmitter and a receiver. When it is ON, it receives and transmits radio frequency (RF) energy. The radio operates in the frequency range of 806 MHz to 870 MHz or 890 MHz to 960 MHz, and employs digital modulation techniques. When you communicate with your radio product, the system handling your call controls the power level at which your radio product transmits. The output power level typically may vary over a range from 0.00024 watts to 0.6 watts at, or below, 870MHz, and 0.001 watts to 3.2 watts at, or above, 890 MHz.

Exposure To Radio Frequency Energy

Your Motorola Radio Product is designed to comply with the following national and international standards and guidelines regarding exposure of human beings to radio frequency electromagnetic energy:

- United States Federal Communications Commission, Code of Federal Regulations; 47 CFR part 2 sub-part J
- American National Standards Institute (ANSI) IEEE. C95. 1-1992
- National Council on Radiation Protection and Measurements (NCRP). Report 86
- International Commission on Non-Ionizing Radiation Protection (ICNIRP) 1998
- National Radiological Protection Board of the United Kingdom, GS 11, 1988
- Verband Deutscher Elektrotechniker (VDE) DIN-0848
- Department of Health and Welfare Canada. Safety Code 6

To assure optimal radio product performance and make sure human exposure to radio frequency electromagnetic energy is within the guidelines set forth in the above standards, always adhere to the following procedures:

When placing or receiving a phone call, or using the group and private call functions with a Group/Private Speaker OFF (muted speaker icon visible in the display), hold your radio product as you would a telephone. Speak directly into the microphone and position the antenna up and over your shoulder.

When using your radio product as a traditional two-way radio while making group or private calls with the Group/Private Speaker ON (no speaker icon visible in the display), hold the radio product in a vertical position with the microphone one to two inches (2.5 to 5 cm) away from the lips.

For body-worn operation, with or without an earpiece or any other accessory, the antenna should be kept at least one inch (2.5 cm) from the body when transmitting. A Motorola accessory, a leather carry case with a belt clip, is available for body-worn use.

DO NOT hold the antenna when the radio is "IN USE". Holding the antenna affects call quality and may cause the radio product to operate at a higher power level than needed.

Interference to Medical and Personal Electronic Devices

Most electronic equipment is shielded from RF energy. However, certain equipment may not be shielded against the RF signals from your radio product.

Pacemakers

The Health Industry Manufacturers Association recommends that a minimum separation of 6 inches (15 cm) be maintained between a handheld wireless phone and a pacemaker to avoid potential interference with the pacemaker. These recommendations are consistent with the independent research by and recommendations of Wireless Technology Research.

Persons with pacemakers should:

- ALWAYS keep the radio product more than six inches from the pacemaker when the radio product is turned ON.
- Not carry the radio product in a breast pocket.
- Use the ear opposite the pacemaker to minimize the potential for interference.
- Turn the radio product OFF immediately if you have any reason to suspect that interference is taking place.

Hearing Aids

Some radio products may interfere with some hearing aids. In the event of such interference, you may want to consult your hearing aid manufacturer to discuss alternatives.

Other Medical Devices

If you use any other personal medical device, consult the manufacturer of your device to determine if it is adequately shielded from external RF energy. Your physician may be able to assist you in obtaining this information.

Turn your radio product OFF in health care facilities when any regulations posted in these areas instruct you to do so. Hospitals or health care facilities may be using equipment that could be sensitive to external RF energy.

Interference to Other Electronic Devices

RF energy may affect improperly installed or inadequately shielded electronic operating and entertainment systems in motor vehicles. Check with the manufacturer or representative to determine if these systems are adequately shielded from external RF energy. Also check with the manufacturer of any equipment that has been added to the vehicle.

Turn your radio product OFF before boarding any aircraft to prevent possible interference to aircraft systems. Regulations of the United States Federal Communications Commission prohibit use when the plane is airborne. The United States Department of Transportation regulations require you have permission from a crew member to use your radio product while the plane is on the ground.

Safety and General

Use While Driving

Check the laws and regulations on the use of wireless telephones in the area where you drive. Always obey them.

When using the radio product while driving, please:

- Give full attention to driving and to the road
- Use hands-free operation, if available
- Pull off the road and park before making or answering a call if driving conditions so require.

OPERATIONAL CAUTIONS

Damaged Antennas

Do not use any portable radio product that has a damaged antenna. If a damaged antenna comes into contact with your skin, a minor burn can result.

Batteries

All batteries can cause property damage and/or bodily injury such as burns if a conductive material such as jewelry, keys, or beaded chains touch exposed terminals. The conductive material may complete an electrical circuit (short circuit) and become quite hot. Exercise care in handling any charged battery, particularly when placing it inside a pocket, purse, or other container with metal objects.

Operational Warnings

Potentially Explosive Atmospheres

Turn off your radio product when you are in any area with a potentially explosive atmosphere, unless it is a radio product type especially qualified for use in such areas (for example, Factory Mutual Approved). Sparks in a potentially explosive atmosphere can cause an explosion or fire resulting in bodily injury, or even death.

NOTE: The areas with potentially explosive atmospheres referred to above include fueling areas such as: below decks on boats; fuel or chemical transfer or storage facilities; areas where the air contains chemicals or particles such as grain, dust or metal powders; and any other area where you would normally be advised to turn off your vehicle engine. Areas with potentially explosive atmospheres are often, but not always posted.

Batteries

Do not replace or charge batteries in a potentially explosive atmosphere. Contact sparking may occur while installing or removing batteries and cause an explosion.

Blasting Caps and Areas

To avoid possible interference with blasting operations, turn off your radio product when you are near electrical blasting caps, in a blasting area, or in areas posted: "Turn off two-way radio". Obey all signs and instructions.

For Vehicles Equipped with an Air Bag

Do NOT place objects, including both installed and portable wireless equipment, in the area over the air bag or in the air bag deployment area. An air bag inflates with great force. If in-vehicle wireless equipment is improperly installed and the air bag inflates, serious injury could result.

Cleaning and Drying Considerations

Using a leather carry case may help protect the surfaces and help prevent liquids (e.g., rain) from entering into the interior of the radio product. This product is not water proof, and exposing the unit to liquids may result in permanent damage to the unit.

If your radio product interior gets wet, do not try to accelerate drying with the use of an oven or a dryer as this will damage the radio product and void the warranty. Instead, do the following:

1	Immediately power off the radio product.
2	Remove Battery and SIM Card (if so equipped) from radio product.
3	Shake excess liquid from phone.
4	Place phone, battery and SIM card in an area that is at room temperature and has good air flow.
5	Let phone, battery and SIM card dry for 72 hours before reconnecting the SIM card and battery and/or powering on the phone.

If the phone does not work after following the steps listed above, contact your dealer for servicing information.

Clean the external surfaces of the radio product with a damp cloth, using a mild solution of dishwashing detergent and water. Some household cleaners may contain chemicals that could seriously damage the radio product. Avoid the use of any petroleum-based solvent cleaners. Also, avoid applying liquids directly on the radio product.

Antenna Considerations

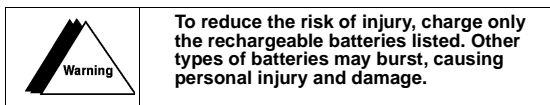

Use only the supplied or an approved antenna. Unauthorized antennas, modifications, or attachments could impair call quality, damage the radio product, or result in violation of local agency regulations.

Accessory Safety Information

IMPORTANT:

SAVE THESE ACCESSORY SAFETY INSTRUCTIONS

- Before using any battery or battery charger, read all the instructions for and cautionary markings on (1) the battery, (2) the battery charger, which may include a separate wall-mounted power supply or transformer, and (3) the radio product using the battery.
- Do not expose any battery charger to water, rain, or snow as they are designed for indoor or in-vehicle use only.

- To reduce the risk of damage to the cord or plug, pull by the plug rather than the cord when you disconnect the battery charger from the power source outlet.
- Do not operate any battery charger with a damaged cord or plug - replace them immediately.
- Battery chargers may become warm during operation, but not hot. If it becomes hot to the touch, unplug it from the power outlet immediately and discontinue its use.
- Use of a non-recommended attachment to a battery charger may result in a risk of fire, electric shock, or injury to persons.
- Make sure the battery charger power cord is located so that it will not be stepped on, tripped over, or subjected to damage or stress.
- An extension cord should not be used with any battery charger unless absolutely necessary. Use of an improper extension cord could result in a risk of fire and electric shock. If an extension cord must be used, make sure that:
 - The pins on the plug of the extension cord are the same number, size, and shape as those on the plug of the charger.
 - The extension cord is properly wired and in good electrical condition.
 - The cord size is 18AWG for lengths up to 100 feet and 16AWG for lengths up to 150 feet.
 - Do not operate any battery charger if it has received a sharp blow, has been dropped, or has been damaged in any way; take it to a qualified service technician.

- Do not disassemble a battery charger; take it to a qualified service technician when service or repair is required. Incorrect reassembly may result in a risk of electric shock or fire.
- Maximum ambient temperature around the power supply of the power supply or transformer should not exceed 40°C (104°F).
- The output power from the power supply or transformer must not exceed the rating given on the Desktop Dual-Pocket Charger.
- The disconnection from the line voltage is made by unplugging the power supply from the AC receptacle.
- To reduce risk of electric shock, unplug any battery charger from the outlet before attempting any maintenance or cleaning.
- For optimum charging performance, turn off the radio product while charging it in any battery charger.

VI. PATENT AND SOFTWARE PROVISIONS:

MOTOROLA will defend, at its own expense, any suit brought against the end user purchaser to the extent that it is based on a claim that the Product or parts infringe a United States patent, and Motorola will pay those costs and damages finally awarded against the end user purchaser in any such suit which are attributable to any such claim, but such defense and payments are conditioned on the following:

- a. That MOTOROLA will be notified promptly in writing by such purchaser of any notice of such claim;
- b. That MOTOROLA will have sole control of the defense of such suit and all negotiations for its settlement or compromise; and

The depreciation will be an equal amount per year over the lifetime of the Product or parts as established by MOTOROLA.

MOTOROLA will have no liability with respect to any claim of patent infringement which is based upon the combination of the Product or parts furnished hereunder with software, apparatus or devices not furnished by MOTOROLA, nor will MOTOROLA have any liability for the use of ancillary equipment or software not furnished by MOTOROLA which is attached to or used in connection with the Product or any parts thereof.

No license is granted by implication, estoppel or otherwise under MOTOROLA patent rights or copyrights.
